

2025, June Internship Report

Dear friends,

I trust that you are well in the Lord. May His grace continue in you and conform you into the full knowledge of Christ.

TBC Conference

June was a busy month for us. One week after our TPC classes, we hosted a Biblical Counselling Conference for two consecutive weeks of teaching. I had the privilege of participating in both modules:

- Module 1 (Basic): We majorly focused on the eight methods of Biblical change (according to Dr. Merck).
- Module 2 (Advanced): We examined domestic abuse through listening to and watching recorded counselling sessions and engaging in discussions.

It was a great experience. The lessons reminded me of something brother Keith said: “Dealing with the issues in the church is the most challenging part in ministry.”

this photo was taken in the class, during the second module

TBC Ministry

Alongside leading the school ministry, the elders decided that I should help the children's ministry, beginning from the month of July. This responsibility will require additional time, particularly in coordinating and preparing Sunday classes, and during the Vacation Bible School in holidays.

I am also grateful to God for His protection and for all I have learned in the first half of the year. In addition, I've been asked to lead mid-week prayer services in October and December, where I'll prepare a word of encouragement from the book of Job: chapters 26–29 in October, and 36–38 in December-covering one chapter per week.

A Journey to Kamketo

The elders have promised to release me to visit my parents on August 11. While the exact duration of my stay will be confirmed later, it will be the longest time I've spent away from home. I eagerly long to see them and - ministering to the church there.

Prayer Requests

- Give thanks to God for the experienced I have learned through the ministry of TBC and at TPC.
- Pray for God's wisdom and diligence during our studies which begins next week.
- Request God's strength and wisdom for the responsibilities I've been given.
- Pray for success on my upcoming visit to Pokot.